

Environmentally Friendly Cleaning Supplies

The following products are a complete list of suitable eco-friendly cleaning supplies. These may be selected at the clients request at any time. The responsibility of supplying cleaning products should be discussed beforehand.

Why Go Green?

- Conventional cleaning products contribute to higher levels of pollution indoors than outdoors. However, green products have natural essential oils that promote good air quality.
- Employees are more productive with a healthy working environment.
- The use of harsh and toxic cleaners increases the deterioration of your office's floor and furniture. Using organic products protects your company's property.
- As opposed to the past when green cleaning products and equipment cost more than standard products and equipment, today things are different. Currently, green products and equipment don't cost more than conventional products. Some organic products are less expensive than standard cleaning products.
