TRAVERS
NEW YORK

Designed to reflect the spirit of a well-traveled lifestyle, inspiration for GARDEN CLUB was drawn from all corners of the world. It stays true to Travers' traditional design history and is influenced by the outdoors. The designs in the collection offer escapism, with an assortment of patterns and textures reminiscent of the diversity found in nature. The collection is motivated by the dream of a beautifully cultivated garden composed of plants and flowers that have been gathered from near and far. This philosophy directly relates to a variety of original designs, printing techniques and weaving processes that together form a layered collection of fabrics reminiscent of old world style.

A mastery of craftsmanship and attention to detail is found in the development of each design in the collection. To realize our hero print, AUDUBON GARDEN, we teamed up with Southern California artist Allison Cosmos. Every brush stroke was preserved for the fabric adaptation of this original hand painted garden oasis, filled with birds, flowers and butterflies. WAVE HILL, a true warp print produced by trained artisans in India has a rustic quality that perfectly encapsulates a feeling of vintage charm. The color palette is of today, with a relaxed casual nuance making each fabric approachable and easy to use. GARDEN CLUB blurs the lines between home and garden, breathing fresh color and new life into each interior.

We teamed up with Southern California artist Allison Cosmos to develop AUDUBON GARDEN, our hero print; an original hand painted garden oasis filled with birds, flowers and butterflies. For its fabric adaptation, every brush stroke of this floral chinoiserie was carefully preserved. Printed on a lightweight linen cloth using the latest in digital technology, each of the four color worlds creates a unique environment ranging from serene pastel to cheerful bright. AUDUBON GARDEN is the perfect combination of old world charm with a modern twist.

Our new warp print, WAVE HILL, evokes the feeling of vintage charm. The design itself was inspired by vines and trails from the Ottoman era, modernized with the use of large bold flowers and then softened using a traditional warp print technique. The design is first screen printed by eight trained artisans on to a net fabric, which is loose and open. The prepared warp beam is then carefully attached to a hand loom where a skilled artisan weaver hand ties the ends. Subtle variations are a part of the inherent beauty of this charming rustic print.

Inspired from a sculpture by Louise Bourgeois, HAMPTON PATCH is a quilted four color patchwork of cut trapezoids pieced together to create rhythm and depth. We use the age old method of hand dying to achieve the variation in color for each of the patches. A true labor of love, it takes about 20 skilled women three to five days to produce 25 meters of fabric using semi-automated sewing machines to piece the fabric swatches together. HAMPTON PATCH is a hand crafted work of art.

LONGWOOD WEAVE is the textured upholstery plain you have been waiting for! Three different yarn colors are carefully dyed and then warped in a very specific manner to create an end result that, though very intentional, appears wholly organic. It has a dry, all natural cotton composition, and is available in nine colors that layer beautifully throughout the Travers portfolio.

Home textiles, like fashion, are cyclical, and older styles can be reproduced with a fresh take for today. CARAVAN is the perfect example of this, modernizing the traditional boucle with a natural quality and hand-made look. This upholstery fabric is woven on a linen viscose warp with a very thick weft of 100% pure slub wool. The use of wool adds to the sustainability of the fabric, and the finishing process is chemical free with respect to the environment. CARAVAN has a special old world quality to it, and is a classic addition to the Travers line.
