Belgian singer/songwriter/influencer: Jessy

Since the 90s, Jessy has been the pride of Belgium. She burst onto the international scene with her club smash "Arpegia," and quickly followed it up with another massive hit, "Innocence," which earned her widespread fame across Europe and beyond. Jessy then teamed up with Milk Inc. star Regi Penxten to produce her debut album, featuring the huge hit "Look at Me Now."

Jessy's career continued to soar with collaborations and chart-topping singles. She became a household name with tracks like "Dancing in the Dark" and "Over You," cementing her status as an international singing sensation. Her dynamic stage presence and powerful voice have made her a sought-after performer at festivals and events across the globe.

Despite her busy schedule, Jessy never stops producing. She has also embraced social media, connecting with fans on Instagram, YouTube, and TikTok, where she shares her life, music, and popular makeup tutorials. Her extensive discography, including hits together with Sash, Michael Beltran, 4 Strings, Ian Prada, DJ F.R.A.N.K. and her latest release: "Love is Love," are available on numerous platforms. Jessy continues to work on fresh material, promising exciting new releases in the upcoming years.

Jessy's influence extends beyond music. She is a beloved figure in the LGBTQ+ community, having written the anthem for Antwerp Gay Pride in 2024. Her positive energy and commitment to spreading love and joy make her a cherished icon. In July 2024, she thrilled audiences once again by performing her iconic song "Innocence" on Belgium's primetime TV show "Tien om te Zien."

With a career spanning decades and a bright future ahead, Jessy remains a true star, enchanting fans worldwide with her music and vibrant personality.
