

Maria's Song

Verse 1:

Oh, Maria, you danced through life,
With a suitcase in your hand, chasing the sunlight.
From cobblestone streets to the ocean's shore,
Every step you took, you opened up the door.
You had a laugh that could light the night,
A heart so big, it made the world feel right.
Through every journey, near and far,
You showed us all how to follow our star.

Chorus:

Maria, oh Maria,
Your love was the rhythm, your life was the tune.
You taught us to savour every moment,
Like the sun kisses the moon.
Maria, oh Maria,
Your spirit's a melody that lingers on,
In every heart, in every song.

Verse 2:

In your kitchen, magic came alive,
Little hands learning, oh, how they'd thrive.
Rolling dough, spilling flour on the floor,
You showed your grandkids life's worth so much more.
You said, "The secret's not in the spice,
It's in the love, that's what makes it nice."
With every meal, you wove a thread,
Of family and joy, in the life you led.

Chorus:

Maria, oh Maria,
Your love was the rhythm, your life was the tune.
You taught us to savour every moment,
Like the sun kisses the moon.
Maria, oh Maria,
Your spirit's a melody that lingers on,
In every heart, in every song.

Bridge:

Now the world may feel a little quieter tonight,
But your legacy burns ever bright.
In the journeys we take, the meals we share,
Maria, we feel you everywhere.

Outro:

So here's to Maria, the traveller's muse,
With a life full of wonder, she had nothing to lose.
Her song keeps playing, her love's still strong,
Maria, your story is an endless song.
Maria, oh Maria,
Forever in our hearts, where you belong.
