

A Healing Hand, A Golden Heart

Verse 1

She walked the halls with a healing hand,
A heart of gold, a soul that understands.
Through every tear, through every pain,
Sally brought the sunshine through the rain.
Her playful laugh lit up our home,
The glue that held us, never alone.

Chorus

Oh, Sally, you're the heart of our days,
Your love and your laughter in so many ways.
The strength you showed, the care you gave,
A light in our lives that we'll always save.
Oh, Sally, your spirit lives on— In the love of the family you've sewn.

Verse 2

She taught us the value of work well done,
How to face each battle until it's won.
With sand in her toes on summer shores,
She'd read her books and dream of more.
Her turkey dinners brought us near,
A feast of love, year after year.

Chorus

Oh, Sally, you're the heart of our days,
Your love and your laughter in so many ways.
The strength you showed, the care you gave,
A light in our lives that we'll always save.
Oh, Sally, your spirit lives on— In the love of the family you've sewn.

Verse 3

She gave her all, she held us tight,
A beacon of hope, a guiding light.
Through every season, through every storm,
Sally kept us safe, kept us warm.
And though the waves may call her name,
Her love will echo, just the same.

Chorus

Oh, Sally, you're the heart of our days,
Your love and your laughter in so many ways.
The strength you showed, the care you gave,
A light in our lives that we'll always save.
Oh, Sally, your spirit lives on—In the love of the family you've sewn.
